

Explore how it works

- 1. Central Customs Desk collects all required data and documents from all sources, within the company as well as from forwarders and suppliers globally.
- 2. KGH Central Customs Desk (CCD) monitors and manages incoming assignments (information, data and documents). The Single Point of Contact function handles all communication and cooperation between all the different parties. The intelligent business engine ensures that all relevant information, data and documents are directed to the correct receiver, normally a national customs broker anywhere around the world.
- 3. The receiving customs broker or KGH partner, gets a complete set of validated data to perform the customs declaration with their local customs authority. Statuses, data, declarations and other relevant information are routed back to the CCD solution platform.
- 4. You can monitor and control real-time data for statuses and KPIs during the process. All real-time data will then be stored together with all relevant customs data from the national customs systems level. The use of the Analytics and Reporting Business Intelligence tools make all kinds of analysis and reporting possible.
